

Sanctuary: Renewing the Servant Soul

A Life Changing Retreat with
Gloria J. Burgess, PhD

October 8-14, 2011 – Molokai, Hawaii

Sanctuary is an invitation to reflect on your truest nature, realign with your core values, and attune to your soul's deepest calling... to what makes you come fully alive. This retreat is part of Gloria's popular series—Dare to Wear Your Soul on the Outside,® which focuses on living and giving your best. For many years, Gloria offered her programs only in corporate, health care, education, and philanthropic settings to help frazzled, burned-out leaders reconnect with their purpose. So many people in non-leadership roles have requested her highly successful programs, they are now open to everyone. As servant leaders, we excel in putting everything and everyone else on our "to do" lists, but we often forget about ourselves. This inspiring retreat is an invitation to change that. It's an invitation to renew and rejuvenate your own heart and soul.

Each morning and afternoon will be a time to re-dream our world and our unique contribution to it, all within the context of asking: what is the world calling me to—now? To help us respond to this important question and others, we will learn from Gloria's teaching and insightful commentary. We will also build a joyous, energizing community as we sing, tell stories, create collage, move, share poems, and enjoy time in nature.

During the week, we'll visit the highest sea cliffs in the world overlooking Kalapapa'a, and we'll contemplate the history of this sacred place.

Free time in the afternoons and evenings provides ample opportunity to relax in the Hui Ho'olana's sun-warmed swimming pool, hike and bike on nearby trails, enjoy massage, unwind in the embrace of a hammock, gaze at the stars, and connect with friends new and old.

Come, celebrate yourself!

Reflect on what really matters

Gloria devotes her life to celebrating and lifting up the human spirit. She knows that each of us must leave the world better off than we found it, that we must be the difference that makes the difference. Gloria is CEO of Jazz, Inc., her leadership consulting and coaching company. She is also Founder and Executive Director of The Lift Every Voice Foundation, a small non-profit organization dedicated to developing tomorrow's leaders today™. Gloria speaks and leads retreats around the world. Her latest book is Dare to Wear Your Soul on the Outside.

Testimonials

I've participated in many retreats and workshops over the years, and Gloria is by far the most capable, fun, and fantastic leader I've ever had the joy to be with. Just tell me when her next retreat is scheduled, and I'll be there! ~ B. Payan

When I told my wife about all I learned at the retreat and about how for the first time in my life I felt really connected to something besides my work, she was practically speechless. But she did manage to say—It's about time!

~ R. McIntosh

I feel so excited and energized. Now, I'm ready to take on the world. Bring it on! ~ A. Fujikawa
